Community Recovery (weight: 24%): 34%

In Qodqod, we see that only 14% of IDPs and 13% of the host community are able to meet their needs. However, 66% of IDPs do not rely on assistance compared to 24% of people in the host community.

Most of the population in Qodqod is from the host community and the Ayr clan. Approximately 93% of the population say they belong to the Ayr clan, 3% to the Hawadle clan and 4% to other clans. The community hosts 4% of returnees and 16% of IDPs.

ACCESS TO DRINKING WATER

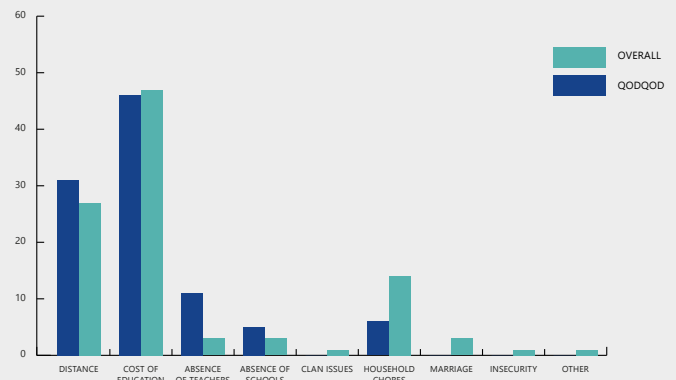

Refers to the question: "Does your household have enough access to drinking water?"

Access to essential community services remains extremely limited in Qodqod - 31% of the population does not have access to drinking water and 99% do not have access to electricity.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Refers to the question: "What is the main barrier to educational access for youth in your household?"

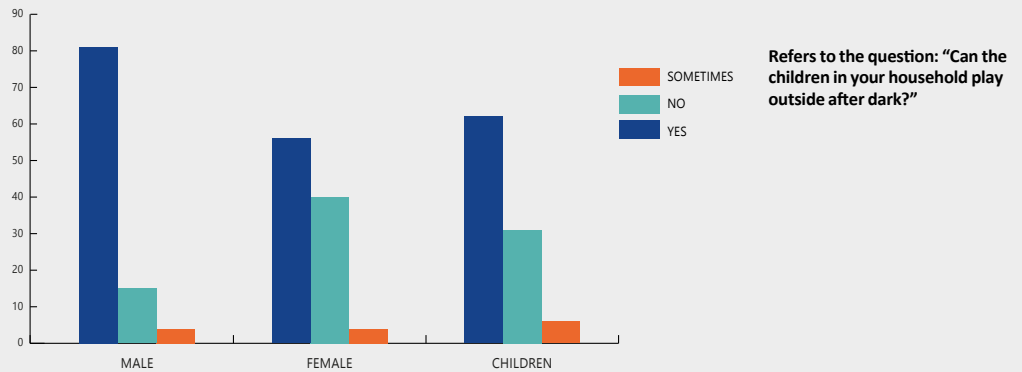

Qodqod, as with the other locations within Mataban District, is severely impacted by the cost of education for the schools that do exist in the community. KIIs indicate that the only school in the village is small (three rooms) and is entirely community funded which explains the high rate at which cost is cited as the main barrier.

Rule of Law (weight 53%): 64%

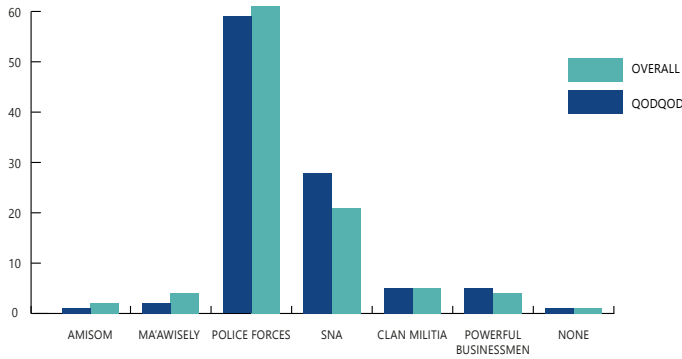

Refers to the question: "Can the male members of your household move freely and without fear in your community?"

Refers to the question: "Can the female members of your household move freely and without fear in your community?"

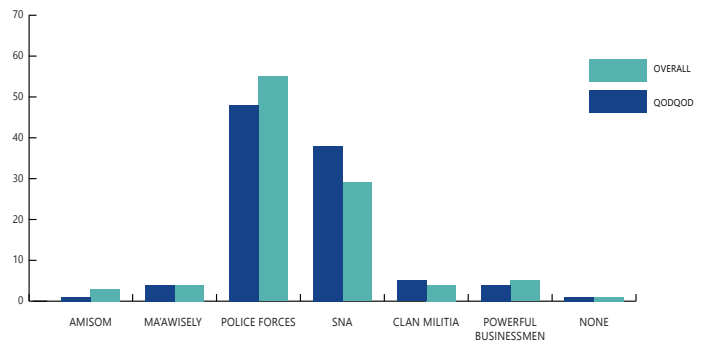

TRUST IN SECURITY ACTORS

Refers to the question: "Imagine one of your friends was kidnapped. From whom would you seek assistance?"

Refers to the question: "Imagine that an armed group was launching attacks in the territory where you live and disrupting the local market and transportation of goods in and out of your area. Who would you expect to be most effective at securing the area?"

IDPs feel more secure in Qodqod with 79% of IDP households saying their children can move around without fear, compared to 58% of households in the host community. Further, 76% of IDP households say women can move around without fear, compared to 51% of households in the host community.

The SNA is perceived well in Qodqod. IDPs have more confidence in the SNA than in the police. 59% of IDPs trust the SNA to protect the area in case of an armed group attack and 34% trust the police. In contrast, 33% of the host community trusts the SNA in this situation and 51% trust the police.

LOCAL JUSTICE INFRASTRUCTURE

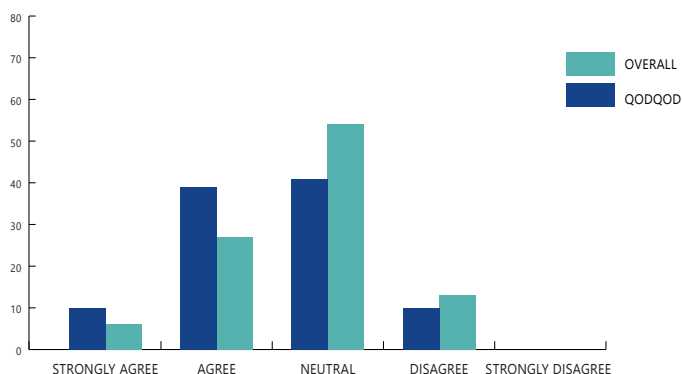

- ✘ NO POLICE FORCE
- ✘ NO POLICE STATION
- ✘ NO PUBLIC COURT INFRASTRUCTURE

Al-Shabaab retains a significant degree of influence across Mataban District. They continue to illicitly tax local businesses through intimidation tactics as well as recruit/indoctrinate local children and teenagers in the area.

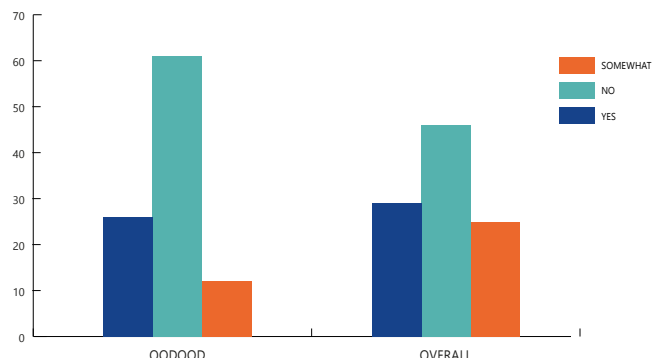

Local Governance (weight: 9%): 57%

Generally, the community in Qodqod has low confidence in the government - 26% of the population think that the clan composition of the local government is fair while only 10% "strongly agree" that the local government is fair in how it operates.

Refers to the question: "Do you feel that your local government in your community is fair?"

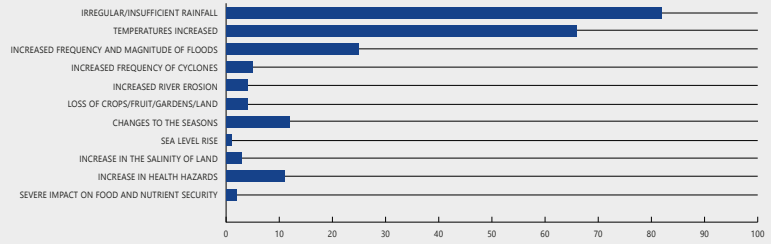

Refers to the question: "Do you think that the current clan composition in the local government is fair?"

Climate Change (weight: 14%): 52%

Refers to the question: "Have you observed any of the following changes in weather patterns over the last 10-30 years in this community?"

Refers to the question: "What were the impacts of these weather change patterns at the household level?"

Refers to the follow-up question "What measures did you take?"

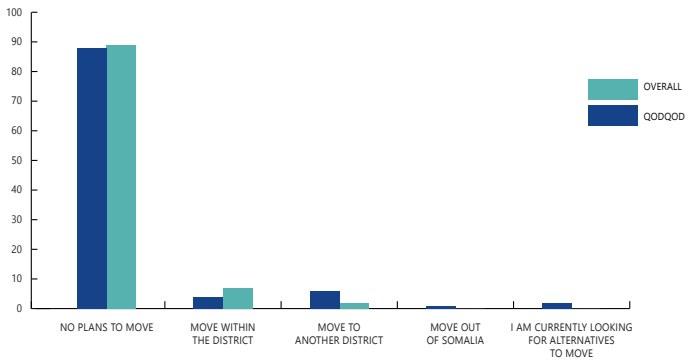

One of the most significant findings from this survey, we see that a large part of the population does not act against climate change because they do not know what to do. Although the population has observed climate change over the last 10-30 years (70% said they observed irregular/insufficient rainfall), 25% of the population has not taken any action to adapt to climate change and 53% of those respondents have not taken any action because they do not know what to do.

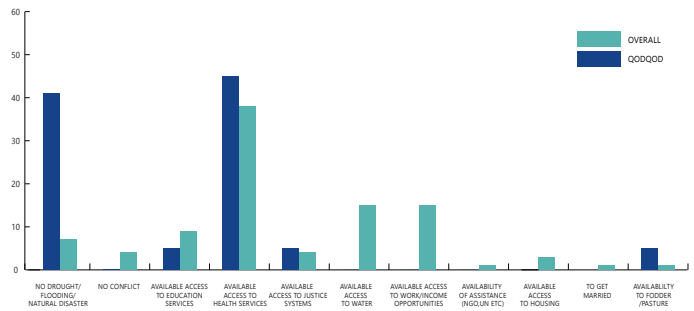

POPULATION MOVEMENT (WEIGHT: N/A)

In our chosen model, the Population Movement Sub-index did not return any statistically significant variables – see COSI Hirshabelle’s Comparative Report for a detailed explanation. However, the survey still demonstrated the following descriptive findings:

Refers to the question: "What is your plan to move in the next twelve months?"

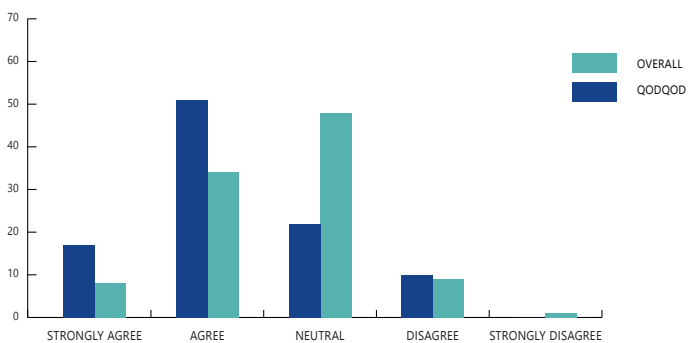

Refers to the question: "what is the main reason you want to move to the location/destination?"

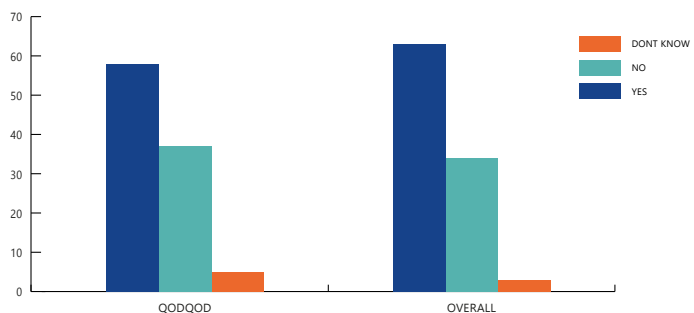

SOCIAL COHESION (WEIGHT: N/A)

In our chosen model, the Social Cohesion Sub-index did not return any statistically significant variables – see COSI Hirshabelle’s Comparative Report for a detailed explanation. However, the survey still demonstrated the following descriptive findings:

Refers to the question: "Do you feel that people live peacefully together in your community?"

Refers to the question: "Have there been physical attacks and/or incidents between groups (IDPs/Returnees/Host Community, Clans/Sub-Clans, and Pastoralists/Farmers) in this community in the last six months?"

Qodqod is the only location surveyed where a majority of the respondents felt that people in their community live peacefully together.
